afford not to do what and all we can to further its success? If we do not begin now, when will we begin? If we do not take up this proposition, when and where will we find a better one and an easier one to handle?

The Commercial Club has been urged to bring an industry to Paris. What can the Commercial Club do if it is not backed by the people who compose it? Citizens, there is but one thing to do, and that is for each and every man to put his shoulder to the wheel and boost; don't say "I can't." If you say "I will," that is the watchword that leads to accomplishments; that is the sparks that sets the fire a-burning all down the line. If we don't succeed in locating this enterprise while we have a chance, let us nevermore lay the flattering unction of greatness to our souls, but lie down to that everlasting sleep which will surely cover us like a shroud, and spell Commercial Lethargy to our city forever.

In conclusion, the Secretary of the Commercial Club, Mr. Adcock, has in charge the taking of subscriptions, and when he calls on you, let no man turn him down. Let each and everyone who can possibly do so take at least one share of stock, and the problem is solved. If enough interest is manifested the other two enterprises will be submitted. One of these asks for a similar amount and the other considerably more. If you want them take hold. The Bourbon News believes in this movement and will do what it can free of charge, devoting the columns of this paper without cost, to the success of this enterprise.

Haas Commits Suicide.

The physicians who are attending Francis J. Heney at San Francisco, say that in all probability he will recover from his wounds. Plans are being made to continue the trial of Abe Ruey, several attorneys having volunteered to take up Mr. Heney's work. Morris Haas, the ex-convict and former liquor dealer, who fired a bullet into Heney's head, committed suicide in his cell Saturday. He had concealed a Lerringer pistol in his shoe, and shot himself through the head, dying instantly.

A Record-Breaking Business.

Harry Simon commenced Saturday, another one of his famous Mill End Sales which eclipsed all former sales of the kind on the opening day.

Mr. Simon told the News yesterday that his store was crowded from early in the morning until late at night and that the business was something enormous, in fact it was the biggest day in his store since he has been in business—more goods sold, more cash taken in and a better pleased lot of shoppers never left his store. The business was so steady and the crowd so large that not a clerk or himself had an opportunity to eat their noonday lunch. This looks like business was picking up in Paris and that the holiday trade will be something enormous. Mr. Simon says his holiday stock this year will certainly surprise his customers. The Mill End Sale will continue until Saturday, Nov. 28.

Bourbon College Partially Burned

As the result of a fire which occurred Sunday morning the east wing of the Bourbon Female College was completely gutted and the remainder of the building was to some extent damaged by smoke and water. An alarm from box 23 was sounded at about 8:30 the fire department responding promptly and made a quick run to the scene.

When they arrived the flames had gained considerable headway beneath the tin roof and but for their prompt action the entire building would have been destroyed. Immediately lines of hose were thrown out and placed in positions to prevent the further spread of the flames to the main portion of the building.

The firemen were greatly handicapped by the tin roof that covered the east wing and after forcing their way beneath it struggled for half an hour before the flames were completely under control.

At the first alarm the student body of the institution became excited and rushed from the building, many of the students who were preparing their morning toilet fleeing, scantily clad. When the department arrived they became more composed, and, with the assistance of by-standers, returned to the building and secured most of their belongings.

All of the furniture and wardrobes, with the exception of those in the portion of the building where the fire originated, were carried out on the campus where they remained until the fire was announced to be under control when they were carried back into the house.

The origin of the fire is unknown, although it is supposed that it originated from a defective electric light wire in the east wing and probably started in the night, smouldering between the roof and the ceiling until it broke out in a flame that was fanned by a brisk wind.

The loss entailed by the fire is not exactly known, although a rough estimate places it between $3,000 and $3,500 which is completely covered by insurance.

This is the second time within the last five years that the Bourbon College has been visited by fire. In November 1902 the laundry of the institution was destroyed together with all the clothing of the boarding students, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars.

IMPORTANT TO TOBACCO GROWERS.

Burley Tobacco Society Fixes Prices on the 1907 Crops and Names Date When Sales Will Commence.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee, November 11, it was decided to price the different grades of the 1907 tobacco no later than November 17, and that this tobacco will be put on sale November 24.

In view of this action, it is very important that all types be sent in at once, that every one's tobacco may participate in the opening sales. Large orders are on file which are expected to consume the balance of the 1906 crop and a large part of the 1907 crop. All purchasers must take one hoghead of the old crop with every four hogheads they buy of the 1907 crop.

BURLEY TOBACCO SOCIETY.

Brown's in Town.

A well dressed stranger named Victor H. Brown, of Pittsburg, Ky., arrived in town yesterday with a good-size bank roll on his person. He visited the Citizen's Bank and deposited $50. He then proceeded to take on a few "poppers" and later returned to the bank to make a draw on his funds. The "poppers" aboard seemed to get him tangled eyed and instead of going into the bank he entered Mrs. Corne Baird's millinery store, next door to the bank, and demanded his money, bracing himself against the door so the lady clerks could not make their exit. The screams of the ladies attracted the attention of several gentlemen who went in and lead the young man out. He was "wild and woolly" and used rough language, throwing his hand to his hip pocket as if to draw a weapon. About this time Chief Hill appeared upon the scene and arrested him. He resisted and after several telling upper cuts from the Chief quietly proceeded with him to Hotel Judy.

Will Fix Prices for Tobacco Today

Today is the day fixed by the Burley Tobacco Society as the day for fixing the prices on the 1907 crop and it will be placed on sale Nov. 24. The long dry spell has retarded the pricing of the crop and few, if any counties, have their full quota of samples at Winchester, but now, since the rains have begun, they will come in rapidly. Advance orders, it is said, will take most of the remaining crop of 1906 and a large portion of the 1907 crop.

A mistake was made in fixing the prices last year, which will hardly be repeated this year, that is the low grades were priced too low and the higher grades too high. The result was that all low grades were sold long ago and the high grades are too costly for many manufacturers to handle profitably, which accounts for the slow sale of the higher grades of 1906 crop.

Notice to Owners of Pooled Tobacco.

Notice is hereby given to all owners of pooled tobacco, and to all tobacco buyers, that the Bourbon County Board of Control has adopted a resolution expressly denying to any owner of pooled tobacco the right to sell said tobacco, and to all buyers of tobacco the right to purchase any of said tobacco; and notice is further given that the sale of any of said pooled tobacco, or the purchase of any of said tobacco, without the written consent of the Bourbon County Board of Control is in violation of Section 1, Chapter 8, of the Acts of the last General Assembly known as the Crecilious Bill, and that both the seller and the purchaser of any of said pooled tobacco is guilty of a misdemeanor.

JOHN A. LARUE,
Chairman of the Bourbon County Board of Control.

Shooting at Negro Festival.

A shooting scrape took place Saturday night at a negro festival at the home of Harve Biddell, on the Iron Works pike, in Clintonville precinct. Omar Burns attempted to shoot Jim Johnson, but he missed his mark and wounded Dave Biddell in the neck and "Dutchie" Sleggon in the hip and stomach. The latter probably fatally wounded. Burns was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Thompson Sunday and landed in jail. His examining trial will be called this morning.

The Coopers Indicted.

The grand jury at Nashville Friday afternoon returned a true bill against Robin Cooper, Col. D. B. Cooper, and former Sheriff John D. Sharp, charging them with the murder of former Senator E. W. Carmack. It is expected that the cases will not come up for trial until the January term of court.

Public Sale.

Attention is directed to the public sale advertisement of fine stock, farm implements, crop, etc., of Jas. McClure, trustee of W. C. Massie. Sale is on Tuesday, Nov. 24. Read the advertisement in another column.

Church Building Fund Increasing

Through the efforts of the ladies and friends of the Baptist church the building fund of the new church is being increased to some extent. The series of spelling bees that have been held at the homes of several of the ladies have netted the fund quite a neat sum. On last Friday evening the home of Mrs. Walter Clark on Fifteenth street was crowded with persons, young and old, who had gone there to participate in the spelling match. Mrs. Neville Fisher succeeded in spelling down the entire assemblage. The next bee will be held in the Baptist church on the evening of Nov. 27.

The American Tobacco Company offered the tobacco growers $7,200,000 for 60 per cent. of the 80,000,000 lbs of tobacco in the pool in Kentucky, but the representatives of the growers, objecting to the premature publication of the offer, adjourned without ratifying the offer. It is believed that the offer will be accepted shortly.
